

John Hotowka

‘Close Up That Paid (Off) My Mortgage’

Author of ‘Everything You Wanted To Know About Table Hopping But Were Afraid to Ask’ published way back in 1986

An evening of routines John has honed over 35 years or performing to every type of audience you can think off. You’ll learn all the wrinkles and theatre of performing them close up under fire and under all conditions.

You’ll learn magic with cards, coins, finger rings and even ink, that’s right ink. A couple of routines how John uses magic to promote a company or sponsor. How he stops prospective clients walking past his exhibition stand at wedding fairs, how he engages them and the script he uses to increase his chances of getting booked.

As a bonus you’ll learn his trade show closer, the routine that corporates booked him show after show over 20 years because it gathered the crowds and the exhibition delegates and prospective clients ALWAYS remembered the client’s name and what they offered.

These are the close-up routines he still uses professionally today and they really did help him pay off his mortgage many years ago 😊
